Homecoming Royalty and "Waldo" Seen Just Before Game Halftime

Queen Frances and her princesses are all smiles as they are shown seated with "Waldo" immediately preceding their trip to the grandstand where the Queen was revealed.

Macmen Take Fourth Successive Loop Toga

Harris, Pinion Shine

A sparkling band of OCE Wolves put on an outstanding exhibition of football talent before an exuberant Homecoming crowd November 7 and brought home the prize bacon for the fourth consecutive year by bouncing Portland State college 27-0. The victory continued the monopoly which Coach Bill McArthur has had over the Oregon Collegiate Conference since its inception which has left his outfits undefeated in the four years of its existence.

It took a couple of passes and a couple of pass interceptions to do the trick, with Charlie Harris figuring in most of the pass flinging and stealing. "Cheezy" threw to Charlie Pinion for a first quarter score, tossed to Stan Hays to set up a second period tee-dee, and swiped a Norm Fenton aerial to bring a thrilling climax to the tussle.

From Junior Grassman's opening kick-off, the Wolfpack was in command all the way, but the first period had just slipped past the half-way mark before they could score. The opening tally came on a 23 yard aerial from Harris to Pinion. The conversion try failed and the count read 6-0.

The Monmouth crew came storming back less than three minutes later when Pinion swiped a PSC pass on the Viking 45 and ran it back all the way to the nine. From there Pinion carried it over on a three yard dive. Gene Owens' conversion boot was good.

Portland State moved for its deepest first half penetration shortly before the gun. After recovering a fourth down OCE fumble on their own 10, the Vikings moved the ball 77 yards to the OCE 13 but were held for downs there.

The Wolves took over there and drove all the way for a T-D. A 52 yard jaunt by Darrel Davis put the Wolves within sight of the PSC goal at the 35. Just as it looked as if the hometown crew was going to let its offense bog down, Harris flipped a pass to Hays, who was downed on the nine. Pinion added his third tally on a three yard buck and

All-American To Be Told During Fall Formal

Final preparations are under way for the All American Formal sponsored by Staff and Key on November 21. Music will be supplied by Hermie Gremlin and his five-piece band from Portland.

The main event will be the presentation of OCE's All American who will be presented with a scroll and a plaque engraved with the names of previous winners. He is to be chosen by Staff and Key and selected according to his scholastic standing, athletic ability, dependability, personality and participation in the school's activities.

Although the theme remains a secret and the decorations are unknown, those who know these secrets guarantee that it will be a real surprise and something completely different from anything OCE has experienced.

Perhaps you would like a photograph of you and your date or a small group of people as a remembrance of this evening. If so, there will be a photographer who will snap your pictures for a small price. The background for the pictures will consist of appropriate decorations carrying out the theme of the dance.

Panel of Educators Discusses Topics on Teaching in Assembly

by Frances Furer

"So You Are Going to Teach" was the subject discussed by a panel at the American Education Week assembly held last Wednesday, November 11.

Members of the panel, introduced by Jim Riggs, FTA vice-president, were Mrs. Ruth Stump, a member of the Monmouth and Independence school board; Phyl Newett, principal of the Dallas Junior High school; Ed Carleton, principal of Salem High school; and Don Campbell, superintendent of the Parkrose school.

Mrs. Stump spoke on the responsibilities of teachers to the Nations' Schools Observe American Education Week

by Marilyn Neill

OCE, along with other schools throughout the nation, observed November 8-14 as American Education Week.

The central theme for this year's observance was addressed to the individual citizen, "Good Schools Are Your Responsibility." Daily topics related to various aspects of the modern school program and to some of its most urgent needs: "Learning the Fundamentals," "Building the National Strength," "Preparing for Loyal Citizenship," "The School Board in Action," "Your Child's Teachers," and "Parent and Teacher Teamwork."

During American Education Week more than 12 million people were expected to accept the school's special invitation to visit classrooms and observe school work. In addition, the spotlight of public attention was focused on the work of the schools through the press, radio, television, special programs, and many other communication channels.

American Education Week has been observed annually since 1921, when it was established by

Skating Party Tonight At Independence Rink

For an evening that will "roll-along" with fun, don't forget the OCE skating party tonight, Nov. 16, at 7 p.m. at the Independence skating rink.

Buses will be provided and the transportation cost will be 10 cents per person. Admission will be 35 cents which will include clamp-on skates. Tickets are on sale in the business office for the bus which will leave at 6:45 p.m.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

The Homecoming committee will have a brief follow-up meeting at 6:30 tonight, Monday, Nov. 16, in room 111 of Campbell hall. Written reports from each member will be due at that time.

German Teachers To Observe Classes Here

Seventeen vocational teachers from Germany who are spending several months on the Oregon State college campus, will visit at OCE on Thursday, November 19, as a part of their orientation program to public education and teacher education in Oregon.

They will visit various classes and spend considerable time in the local laboratory school. Dr. Franklin R. Zeran, dean of the OSC school of education, is in charge of the group.

SHOULD BE OBSERVED THE YEAR AROUND

Last week, November 8-14, American Education Week was observed throughout the nation. During this week did any of you stop just once to think what American Education Week really means? Did you give any thought to what it can mean to you, personally?

For us "Education Week" should not be just one week observed during the year, but it should be every week the year round. Not only as students, but later on as teachers and administrators in our American schools, we should keep in mind "Education Week."

We students of OCE should have made "American Education Week" even more meaningful to us. We should always be gaining new knowledge as we go on day by day. Let's grasp the true meaning of the words carved over the entrance of the Monmouth Elementary school, "He Who Dares to Teach Must Never Cease To Learn."

Student Welfare Board Asks for Suggestions

If any student has a complaint, something they would like changed or started, the Student Welfare Board will welcome these suggestions. They may be notified of these ideas by leaving a note in the faculty mail box in the student post office.

The purpose of the Student Welfare Committee is to consider suggestions and give advice so that improvements may be made and the safety of the students maintained.

Those on the committee include: Miss Joan Seavey, dean of women; Dr. Arthur Glogau, dean of men; Miss Virginia Moses, PE department; Mrs. Clara Thompson, director of dormitories; Miss Edith Olson, health center; Dr. Floyd Albin, acting registrar; Joanne Kremers, dormitory representative; Frances Williams, student council representative; Don McKenzie, Vets' Village representative; Mary McGrath, representative of off-campus women students; Chuck Baker, representative of commuters and Emil Perkins, representative for off-campus men students.

Co-Weds Club To Meet

There will be a meeting of the Co-Weds club on Tuesday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. Evelyn Cummings and Oralee Deaver will be the hostesses at Vets' Village, Apt. 3B. Bring some busy work.

The OCE band, made up of OCE and CHS students, is working on ensembles and solos to be played during assemblies or intermissions of choir presentations.

Former OCE Student Writes from Germany

One of the OCE faculty members received a letter recently from Manfred Piontek, German exchange student to OCE last year.

Manfred is now attending Tuebinger university in Germany. Because he has to complete his schooling as soon as possible, he is taking "quite a load," 28 hours.

In his letter, Manfred inquired about OCE. Students may address letters to Manfred K. Piontek, 14A Stuttgart Weillim, Dorf, Kremelin, X Weg N.R. 11, Wiirtt, Germany, if they wish to write.

Information Given for Teacher Organizations

Have you ever heard of NEA, OEA, or FTA? They are organizations that are connected with the teaching profession. All of them have aims and purposes which will greatly aid the teachers of America.

National Education Association, or NEA, has as its aim: "To elevate the character and advance the interests of the profession of teaching and to promote the cause of popular education in the United States." NEA was started about 90 years ago, Aug. 26, 1857. It has grown from a small gathering to a half-million members. As its publication, the NEA Journal is sent to members.

Closely working with the NEA are our state teachers' associations. They are organized in nearly every state of the union. Oregon Educational Association, or OEA, is the name of the organization in this state. The state organizations hold conventions and throughout their field organizations reach into the local school systems of the state. They try to improve teaching facilities and anything else that would improve the educational system of that state.

Colleges dealing with the teaching profession often have, as one of their organizations, Future Teachers of America, or FTA. This organization has the purpose of bringing a better understanding of the teaching profession to prospective teachers.

Steak Dinner Given to OCE Football Team

Dorman Miller, proprietor of the Wagon Wheel cafe, gave a free steak dinner to the OCE football team Monday, November 9, at 7 p.m. Mr. Miller knows a number of the football players and took a special interest in the team this year. He has never seen a football game in his life. He was given a pass to the Homecoming game, but was unable to attend.

National Book Week Now Being Observed

The week of November 17 to 23 has been set aside as National Book Week.

This is the 34th year National Book Week has been in progress. In 1919 it was decided that one week in November would be set aside to promote the interest of young people in reading good books.

Miss Emma Henkle who is in charge of the OCE reading clinic will display some new books in her classroom in room 221 of Campbell hall. Although the library will not have any new books because of insufficient room in the cases, the elementary schools will have some new children's books on display.

Dr. Clark Will Speak Before Several Groups

Dr. Francis Clark, OCE director of teacher education, will address the Lutheran Student Association from Willamette university at a luncheon on Thursday, November 19, at the YWCA in Salem. His topic will be "My Responsibility to Myself." Dr. Clark will also speak to the Christian Businessmen's Association in Albany at 6:30 p.m. on the topic of "Christian Mental Hygiene."

Dr. Clark will be attending a meeting of American Association of School Administrators in Spokane on November 22, 23, and 24. Primary emphasis in the conference will be placed on administration problems in rural schools.

Prof Prepares Exhibit Now Shown in Library

by Marilyn Neill

"Our Need the World Supplies," is the theme of the current display in the library museum. The exhibit of items from all over the globe was prepared by Mr. Charles Noxon of the OCE geography department.

You will find among the collection several popular spices—nutmeg from Indonesia; ginger, Jamaica; cloves, Zanzibar; pepper, India; and paprika, Hungary. The Mexican vanilla bean represents another item familiar to your pantry shelves.

From Turkey there is the licorice root, while castor oil beans comprise a Brazilian exhibit. Silk cocoons are from Japan and a kapok sample from Java. A length of rope made from the sisal hemp of Mexico is also featured.

Noxon Speaks at PTA

Mr. Charles Noxon of the geography department was guest speaker at the Thurston PTA meeting at Thurston, Oregon, on Monday, November 9. "Newer Trends in the Teaching of Fundamentals, Especially in Areas of Reading and Arithmetic," was the topic of Mr. Noxon's address.

Mr. Noxon also spoke to the Corvallis PTA of the Lutheran schools on Friday, November 13. His topic for this speech was "Trends and More Effective Methodology in the Elementary Schools."

NOTICE

All students expecting to graduate from either a three or four-year course in March or June are asked to call at the registrar's office and fill out the necessary application form.

Two films entitled "The Voice" and "The Rehearsal" were shown to the music classes and to the choir last Friday, November 6.

Student Handbook To Be Out in Near Future

A new student handbook, giving students information about clubs, activities, services, buildings on campus, history of OCE, and other valuable information is well on its way to completion. The only section left to be completed is the part on traditions of OCE. It should be out by the end of this term or the beginning of winter term according to John Davis and Gary Stephenson, who are in charge of this useful student handbook.

NOTICE FOR WOMEN

All women students past 25 are cordially invited to a get-acquainted party at Miss Seavey's apartment (448 N. Monmouth Ave. — Winegar apartments) on Tuesday, November 17, at 8 p.m. Slacks or other informal dress will be in order.

community, the school board to the teacher and community, and the community to the teacher.

Mr. Newett's topic concerned the characteristics which should be cultivated in order to be a good teacher. He emphasized the use of "common sense."

Mr. Carleton gave a few of the questions one should ask himself before entering the teaching profession. He also gave some of the qualities a principal looks for in hiring a teacher.

Mr. Campbell talked on the subject of what schools expect of teachers. He particularly stressed the necessity of social and emotional stability and good teaching methods.

Questions from the audience concerned the three year and the four year certification plans and the supervised teaching grading system.

Vets' Village News

by Jim Riggs

Many "old" faces were seen in and around the Village last Saturday as several ex-residents returned for the annual OCE Homecoming. Returning for the week-end events were Mr. and Mrs. Les DeHart, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Balch, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dyal, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Job, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spear.

As the OCE Wolves defeated the Vikings so did the wind and rain two days earlier send the Village house sign crashing to the ground. Regardless of this blow dealt by the elements, the Village residents received the second prize of $5. The money was donated to the day nursery and so will serve a worthwhile purpose. We wish to take this opportunity to thank all of those who spent a couple of long evenings helping to make it a prize-winning house sign.

We are proud of our football star from the Village. Ray Cummings, captain of the OCE football team, together with all the other fellows played an excellent game last Saturday afternoon as OCE defeated the Vikings from Portland State 27-0. Good work, fellows!

Around Todd's Halls

by Carolyn Jones

Once again we are back to normal after Homecoming activities. The gals of Todd are once again studying and relaxing.

On Wednesday, November 11, Mr. Donald Campbell, Mr. Ed Charleton and Mrs. Agnes Booth were luncheon guests here at Todd.

That evening the November birthdays were celebrated and Ann Hansen, Kathy Hansen, Sherry Ripple, Lucy Goyak, and Ardonna Elligsen were the girls honored.

Attention, all freshmen! Would you like to know what happens when you receive five letters? Ask K'Lynn Brumbaugh. She found out the hard way. How's the water, K'Lynn? Cold?

Edie Neilson, you are certainly lucky! Hey, did you know that Alice Swiggum was short-sheeted six nights in a row?

Gene "Twinkle-Toes" Owens has really brightened the place up lately. He's been sporting a beauty of a shiner that he managed to acquire in the Homecoming game with Portland State. How does the other guy look, Gene?

The "Three Musketeers"—Pat Bohannon, Paul Hamilton, and John Scott — had visitors from Crabtree last week. All the West House residents were much impressed.

Chuck Keaton spent last week-end in Salem, as usual, but since it was Sadie Hawkins' he paid the way this time. (They probably popped corn.)

P.S.—Please check the sports page and see who the intramural champs are this year.

Arnold Arms News

by Arnie Heimbach

Everybody was certainly tired after the Homecoming festivities but it sure was a lot of fun. The Knights who lived here last year had a good time renewing old acquaintances. Jim Hyer, Larry Dawson and Don Seibert who graduated last year were back for Homecoming.

Arnold Arms' house party was held last Friday night and an enjoyable time was had by all.

A new term has come to the campus. OSC's term for dating is "fussing." U. of O's is "piging"—and now OCE has one. It is "louping." The term comes from the French word "loup," which means wolf. It is pronounced with the letter "p" silent. So, let's go "louping" tonight, fellows!

A surprise birthday party was held for "Uncle" Fred Stanley a week ago Thursday evening. Refreshments consisting of cake and ice cream were served. Fred was under the impression that the party was for Dan Nolan and he was rather surprised when he found he was the only one singing happy birthday to Dan.

joint action of the National Education Association and the American Legion. It has always been observed "for the purpose of informing the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools, and to secure the cooperation and support of the public in meeting these needs."

"American Education Week is inventory time," says the sponsoring committee. "It is an occasion to review the purposes and accomplishments of schools. It is a time to consider the school problems, needs and plans. It is a time for self-examination. Good schools do not just happen. In each community and state the schools are what we make them. They must have our interest and support—during American Education Week, and during every week of the year."

Combine Music Talents

Four students have combined musical talents with Mr. Charles Stowell to form what will be known as the "Woodwind Quintet." These students are Margie White, flute; Jeannette Singleton, flute; Darrell Lunda, clarinet; and Glenna Parks, bass clarinet. Mr. Stowell, director, plays the French horn.

Rare Book Collection Is Displayed at OCE For Last Time Today

Residents of the Independence-Monmouth area will be able to see a collection of rare books and manuscripts that date back to 3500 years before Christ when The Magic Carpet on Wheels visits OCE on November 13 to 16.

Many examples of the history of man's efforts to record his progress in writing and printing are contained in the exhibit which will be shown at the parking lot in back of the OCE library building. Dr. Floyd Albin, acting registrar at OCE, completed arrangements for the local showing through the publishers of the Book of Knowledge who are sending this and a companion exhibit on a coast to coast tour.

The collection will be shown to the general public between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. today. An expert in the history of rare books and manuscripts accompanies the exhibit and will explain the significance of items to local visitors. No charge is made.

After a rather auspicious start and early season slump, Bill "Casey" McArthur and John "Simon" Chamberlain brought home their pigskin prodigies with a terrific stretch drive. The last season drive netted the fourth consecutive Oregon Collegiate Conference football title and a 4 and 4 record on the year.

Mac started practice in September with the usual case of few lettermen, little experience, and lots of freshmen talent, and this year's new innovation, a detachment from Texas. The backbone of the team was built around Charlie Pinion, Bill Arnold, Don Wickstrand, Ray Hubbard, Junior Grassman, Paul Riley and captain Ray Cummings, all vets from the '52 squad.

CHARLES PINION
Doffs One, Dons Another

The door has been closed on football as far as OCE is concerned and now basketball practice is moving into its third week in preparation for the season's opener with Linfield at McMinnville, December 2.

Coach Bob Livingston welcomed the return of a familiar face last week as the 1953-54 hoop captain, Charlie Pinion, doffed one uniform and donned another. Pinion was a play-making, pass-swiping guard for the Wolves last season and one of the team's top scorers.

Three other vets working with Pinion for first string berths are Frank Grove, Bob Frantz, and Don McKenzie. Frank, a demon on the boards, held down the center post last season. Steady Bob was the team's top scorer from his forward position and Don was the freshman prize of the 1952-53 season as a forward.

Better than 20 eager young gentlemen are out currently for berths on the varsity squad.

Owens booted his second conversion for a 20-0 halftime score.

Sparked by Dale Stewart and Jerry Garrett, the Vikings made their biggest bid for paydirt during the third period and early fourth. But a stubborn OCE defense held when it counted most and the PSC crew never came closer than the 10 yard line.

As the fourth stanza and game wore on to its termination, it looked very much as if the first half had seen all the scoring excitement. A few patrons got up to leave and missed a fitting climax to the game and the 1953 football season. With time oozing away, Harris pulled in a Viking pass in the neighborhood of the midfield stripe and galloped to the four yard line. It took the mighty tired kid from Fort Worth two plays to get the six points. Owens made it three for three and 27-0 with 28 seconds left on the clock.

Charlie Pinion was selected as the team's most valuable player and end Joe Roberts, and half-back Darrel Davis were named 1954 co-captains by their football mates in voting last week. Pinion was the team's top scorer and ground gainer in 1953.

The duo of Charlie and Charlie provided most of the offensive spark of the battle with Pinion climaxing a brilliant pigskin career with a three tee-dee game. "Mouse" Davis handled a goodly share of the ball totin' with the injury hobbled Bill Arnold seeing little action.

Pease Porridge

A great, big, hearty congrats to Coach Bill "Casey" McArthur, staff, and boys for their fine work in again bringing home the OCC football bunting. It's getting to be a pleasant tradition around our Monmouth acres, this winning of the OCC football title. Since the league was first set up in 1950, Mr. McArthur and John Chamberlain have guided their charges to four titles and if my math is correct, that takes care of each season since 1950. In fact, the Wolves have yet to lose a football game to a conference foe since the league was set up.

McArthur and his Wolfpack are getting to be like one Casey Stengle and a band of motley baseball players called the New York Yankees.

With the intramural football season coming to a close this past week, the attention will now be focused upon the coming "T" basketball season. Frank Maxwell, intramural commissioner, hopes to get teams organized and ready to play as soon as possible after Thanksgiving.

It is hoped that at least six or better yet eight teams will compete in the hoop sport in order to make it a well-rounded league.

A LOOK AT THE '53 SEASON

The Wolves opened the season with a 40-14 victory over Southern Oregon in the second annual Myrtle Bowl game at Coos Bay. From there on things got mighty tough as the OCE crew dropped tilts on three successive weekends. The first two were to Pacific and Linfield, Northwest conference teams. The Badgers tripped the Wolves 26-14 and the Wildcats 19-8. A trip to Vancouver, B.C., ended in failure as the Thunderbirds of UBC dumped the Wolves 20-6.

It was then that the Wolves started the long climb to the top. They started by bopping the OTI Owls 19-0 in a muddy Oregon Tech homecoming game. Humboldt temporarily halted the Wolfpack by holding them scoreless for the first time since 1948, 13-0.

Returning home to play their first game on the home turf and their second conference go, the Wolves slapped Eastern Oregon College 24-20. Last week they copped the title with their 27-0 win over Portland State.

CAN LOOK FORWARD TO '54

It is always hard to dish the proper praise to the proper people in the proper way at the proper time, but one thing for certain is that it was a team victory in each of those conference games. The fellows know they have done a fine job and can look forward to the 1954 season with anticipation.

TEN TERRIBLE TUSSLES

Foggy enjoyed his vacation so much last week and came to the conclusion that the group prognostication was better, anyway, so he has kindly turned the predictions over to our panel of "ex-

West House eased into the 1953 intramural flag football championship last week as the mighty Highlanders won by forfeit over winless Arnold Arms. As a result of the forfeit, the WH team finished the season undefeated with a 3-0 record.

Vets' Village copped the loop's runner-up slot by virtue of a 13-7 win over the Independents on Thursday.
